This is to certify that Roshan Soni has completed his internship at Realate and has shown exceptional performance in the field of Backend Development.

Throughout his tenure, Roshan has been hard working and communicative, with great skills in research and implementation of such. He has completed most of his tasks before the assigned deadlines and prepared documentation of the same in an easily understandable manner.

Roshan primarily worked on React Native, using JavaScript and created the Backend Infrastructure for our 'Likes' flow, implementing a scheduler function, as well as various others with the use of Firebase. He also helped in developing the algorithm of our app, in coordination with the non-tech teams.

Overall, Roshan has displayed exemplary skills and work attitude. We wish him the very best for his future endeavours.
